

Effective Safety Training

How to get your people to think Safety First

Purpose of this course: This class will train managers, supervisors, human resource, and risk management personnel on how to develop successful safety training programs that reduce workplace accidents and injuries on the job. This customizable half or full-day training program can be live or virtual, and focuses on successful employee engagement for workplace safety, providing key elements for managers to assess and advance their agency's culture of safety.

Elements of this course:

- How to effectively teach safety for non-safety professionals
- Analysis of the impact of effective safety leadership on an agency's safety-first culture (good/better/best)
- Steps to build employee trust for active and positive participation in safety policies, practices and procedures
- Importance of creating accountability and defined responsibilities for safety
- Importance of establishing transparency, continual education, and proactive safety-first solutions
- Resource allocation as it relates to your agency's safety-first culture

Why this course is beneficial: A recent OSHA study revealed that employers who implement a strong safety and health management system note a "transformed workplace culture," in addition to experiencing "higher productivity and quality, reduced turnover, reduced costs, and greater employee satisfaction."
