

PREPARE FOR SNOWY WEATHER WITH TRAINING USA

Fall is right around the corner, and with that brings the start of some snowy weather in regions all across the USA. Training USA, Inc. invites road supervisors, superintendents, public works and maintenance personnel, equipment operators, and city/town managers to a comprehensive full-day workshop on winter road maintenance operations. This customizable course depending on your region covers critical topics for those responsible for snow and ice control. Participants will learn about DOT and Public Works snow fighting policies and strategies, appropriate equipment and techniques for varied road conditions, and best practices for safe snow operations. The workshop also includes off-season planning and maintenance, strategies for anti-icing and de-icing, and effective use of snow fighting equipment.
